Due Diligence Statement: All-Party Parliamentary Group on Autism

This is not an official publication of the House of Commons or the House of Lords. It has not been approved by either House or its committees. All-Party Parliamentary Groups are informal groups of Members of both Houses with a common interest in particular issues. The views expressed in this report are those of the group.

1. Summary

From 16 October 2023 a new rule came into effect prohibiting APPGs from accepting secretariat services that are either provided or funded by a foreign government.

This statement is being issued in response to due diligence by the Officers of the All-Party Parliamentary Group on Autism to ascertain whether the ultimate funder of any benefit to the APPG is a foreign government, and will be made publicly available on our website: <https://www.autism.org.uk/what-we-do/campaign/england/how-we-work-with-parliament/all-party-parliamentary-group>

This statement declares that the APPG on Autism is not provided by or funded by a foreign government.

2. The All-Party Parliamentary Group on Autism

The All-Party Parliamentary Group on Autism is a cross-party group of MPs and Peers. The purpose of the group is to campaign in Parliament for greater awareness of autism, and to lobby the Government for improved services for autistic people and their parents and carers. Its secretariat is provided by The National Autistic Society.

3. Questions and Answers

- 3.1. Who are the individuals forming or working for the secretariat? What other responsibilities do they have, and are they working for, or on behalf of, a foreign government?

The individuals currently working for the secretariat are Joey Nettleton-Burrows, Policy and Public Affairs Manager, and Kate Wilson, Assistant Parliamentary Officer. They are paid employees working for the National Autistic Society, the UK's leading charity for autistic people and their families. No person involved in the secretariat is funded, directly or indirectly, by any foreign government.

- 3.2. Are the individuals in the secretariat paid, employed, or voluntary? If they are employed or paid, by whom, and who is funding them? If the secretariat is provided by a company or group, how is that company or group funded?

The individuals in the APPG secretariat are paid employees working for The National Autistic Society (NAS). NAS is a registered charity. Information about how NAS is funded
